Friends of The Quiet Garden Movement

What is The Quiet Garden Movement?

The Movement encourages the creation of local Quiet Gardens. These provide opportunities for prayer, silence, reflection, and the appreciation of beauty. This inner reflection equips people for living out the paradox of contemplation in action. At the heart of the Movement is the Christian contemplative tradition.

Since its inception in 1992, The Quiet Garden Movement has become an international network with over 300 Quiet Gardens. They are in rural and urban areas and comprise a variety of locations from private homes and gardens to organisations such as schools and prisons.

Recognising the interconnectedness of all things, the Movement seeks to collaborate with those working in areas of creation care, urban deprivation or in retreat centres.

Friends of The Quiet Garden Movement support us in a number of ways.

Prayer and financial support The daily work and the expansion of the Movement depends on financial and prayer resources. The staff and volunteers seek to nurture existing Quiet Gardens, encourage new ones and spread the vision world-wide.

Friends help to provide the necessary finance for the office and for the dynamic growth of the Movement. In this way Friends facilitate the creation of much needed oases of quiet, stillness and natural beauty to counteract noise, busyness and stress.

Volunteering As a small charity we welcome help from volunteers in the office and at events. We are also grateful for offers of expertise and professional skills.

Friends Receive

A twice yearly newsletter mailing, with a list of Quiet Garden locations and occasionally other relevant information.

An invitation to our Annual Gathering – to hear inspirational speakers, meet Quiet Garden hosts and the staff, share news and exchange ideas; invitations to any other regional events.

If you love the ethos of The Quiet Garden Movement, support its vision and would like to be linked formally, but loosely, with the Movement, please become a Friend.

Any financial contributions are very much appreciated.
