The Quiet Garden Movement Sharing Outdoor Space for the Inner Journey

The Quiet Garden Movement nurtures low cost, accessible, outdoor space for prayer, contemplation, rest and inspiration, in a variety of settings, such as private homes, churches, schools, hospitals. The first Quiet Garden opened in 1992 and today there are over 300 worldwide.

The Quiet Garden Movement flows from the example of Jesus’s withdrawal to natural places to pray and his invitation, ‘Come with me by yourselves to a quiet place and get some rest’.(St Mark’s Gospel 6.31). In our busy, noisy world, time spent in a Quiet Garden can be hugely beneficial. People of any faiths, or none, may visit a Quiet Garden.

Those involved in the Quiet Garden Movement come from a variety of Christian traditions, and cultures and welcome the diversity of fellow travellers on the journey.

St John’s Church and Gardens

St John’s Church is conveniently situated near Waterloo Station and the South Bank in central London. It was built in 1824, and renovated after heavy bombing during the second World War. It is now a thriving multicultural and inclusive Church which engages with the arts and music and is concerned with fair trade and working for peace.

St John’s Churchyard Gardens surrounding the church are maintained as part of St Mungo’s award-winning gardening training project.
